Michael Best Resource Center

Clients and businesses have had questions in every area of law - and in some cases the answers are changing daily (or faster). Michael Best has created a consolidated resource center that can answer many of your pressing legal questions in this time of uncertainty and will be continuing to keep that updated. According to their practice, to date, most businesses are focusing on employee safety and employment generally. With brains beginning to get up to speed on that, there is a shift to questions regarding general contractual obligations, and insurance.
